Dear ladies and gentlemen,

We are pleased to invite you to Leipzig for the 35th Annual Meeting of the German Transplantation Society in winter 2026. The annual conference will take place from December 3 – 5, 2026 in the Conference Center at the Leipzig Zoo.

Leipzig is located in central Germany. Its tradition of more than 860 years as a trade fair city and over 600 years as a university city is reflected in the openness and cosmopolitan atmosphere with which the city welcomes its visitors. The Conference Center at Leipzig Zoo is centrally located in the inner city, nestled within the attractive surroundings of the zoo, and combines historic architecture with state-of-the-art event technology.

The scientific direction is led by Prof. Dr. Hans-Michael Tautenhahn from the University Hospital Leipzig, Department of Visceral, Transplantation, Thoracic and Vascular Surgery, Deputy Head of the Hepatobiliary Surgery and Visceral Transplantation Unit.

“Shaping the future together” – under this guiding theme, current developments and challenges in transplantation medicine will be discussed. A deliberate emphasis is placed on interprofessional collaboration, diversity, and dialogue on equal footing: from early-career physicians to nursing staff, coordinators, and researchers, as well as our patients.

Topics will include, among others, the use of robotic surgery, AI-supported systems, the latest perfusion technologies, and innovative cell therapies. At the same time, ethical issues surrounding organ allocation will be discussed, and the role of patients in decision-making processes will be examined.

On the following pages, we would like to present opportunities for sponsorship and the technical exhibition. We warmly invite you to showcase your company at the Annual Conference 2026 in Leipzig.

Yours,
K.I.T. Group GmbH Dresden
Conference Organisation
